Recurrence of Flood Disaster In Area Feared

Storms with Heavy Rains Sweep from Hawaii to Coast

SAN FRANCISCO — A series of howling storms slashed into northern California today and the weather bureau warned of a possible recurrence of the Christmas week flood disaster which killed scores and caused millions of dollars in a half-dozen separate areas.

The U. S. Weather Bureau ordered whole gale warnings posted from Cape Blanco, Ore., to Pt. Reyes, a short distance north of San Francisco.

Weather bureau spokesmen said the storms formed around the Hawaiian Islands and then suddenly swept northeastward to the West Coast on 70-mile-per-hour winds.

Excessively Heavy Rains

"These storms will cause excessively heavy rains in the northern part of California," the bureau said. "There is probability that the rivers north of Sacramento and San Francisco will reach danger levels."

"This series of storms is similar in many respects to those of Christmas week, but we cannot say that as much rain will fall again," it added. "However, all concerned should be prepared to take necessary action against high water levels."

The Christmas week tragedy was California's worst flood disaster. Still more trouble threatened from the East. The weather bureau at Sacramento said the predicted warm rains in the Sierras were expected to start the snowpack melting again and cause a sharp rise in the river flows.

It said a crest of 67 feet was tentatively predicted for early Monday morning in the Feather River near Yuba City where the Christmas killer flood took at least 33 lives.

Not Too Concerned

However, the U. S. Army Engineers in Sacramento said they were not too concerned over the threat. They said the big levee break at Shanghai Bend has been plugged to a height of 68 feet and would be even higher by Monday.

The Engineer repair crews have been working around the clock since the pre-Christmas break.

An Army spokesman said the second big break in the levee, near Nicolaus in southern Sutter County was still far from closed.

"But any new outpouring would only flood some 40,000 acres which are still under water from the previous flood," he added.

Henry Keys is Struck by Auto

Henry Keys, who had been living at the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Quincy, is in the Veterans' hospital at Marion suffering injuries received Thursday night when hit by a car on Route 45 near the Endicott Buick garage in East Harrisburg.

Police said Keys, former local resident, was struck by a car driven by "Cotton" Irvin of near Pierson school, who stopped and notified authorities.

He was taken to Harrisburg hospital suffering a compound fracture of his right leg and a cut over the eye, where he was given treatment. He was moved to Marion in an ambulance from the Veterans' hospital.

Find Three Shot to Death; Believe Murder, Suicide by Ex-Husband

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A jealous former husband apparently solved the classic love triangle with a double murder and his own suicide, police said today.

The bodies of two men and a woman were found shot to death Friday about 25 miles southwest of here near the Meramec River. The victims were in an automobile parked near a boarded up summer cottage called "Peaceful Valley Lodge."

Lt. Richard Hackmeyer of the St. Louis County police said there appeared little doubt but that it was a double murder and suicide.

Police identified the three as James McGraw, 27, his former wife, attractive brunette Carol Hug, 20; and Elmer Loring, 28, with whom Carol worked at a St. Louis printing firm.

Paul Mayer, also an employee at the printing firm, said he had taken Miss Hug to a cocktail lounge Wednesday night and Loring picked them both up. Loring dropped him off and went on with Miss Hug, Mayer said.

Mrs. Melba Loring said her husband had telephoned her that he would be working late that night. Police believed that was the last heard from him.

Authorities said that McGraw probably confronted the couple when Loring and Miss Hug arrived at her home that night and forced them to drive to the death scene where he shot them and killed himself. They said the condition of the bodies indicated they had been dead some time.

Loring's body was behind the wheel of the automobile. Miss Hug

Eisenhower May Drop 10-Year Foreign Aid Plan

Sen. George Warns Program Threatens Bi-Partisan Policy

WASHINGTON (UP)—Informed Senate sources said today the Eisenhower administration may abandon its long-term foreign aid plan because of determined congressional opposition.

Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee warned the administration only Friday that bipartisan foreign policy may be threatened if it insists on the long-term aid plan.

The program possibly would cost one billion dollars over a 10-year period. George has been strongly opposed since the idea first was proposed.

Carefully Weighed

The administration was understood to be carefully weighing the importance of opposition by George and several other powerful legislators, sources said.

George told newsmen after a meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that it is "far more important to maintain a bipartisan foreign policy on essential foreign policy matters than to force an issue on long-term commitments."

"I do not favor long term commitments of any form because our program ought to remain flexible and Congress should be perfectly free to work on it each year," he said.

Dulles invited George to lunch with him for a talk on general foreign policy. George said foreign aid did not figure prominently in the talk.

Doubted Russian Stability

George said he doubted the economic stability of Russia to fulfill her expansive promises of huge aid programs for various areas of the world. He said the recent shift in Russian cold war tactics to more emphasis on economic foreign aid is "no reason to be unduly concerned."

George also said the U. S. should not try to outbid the Russians in offering economic aid to neutral nations.

"I can't see the advantage in putting up a neon sign a mile high saying: 'We got it. Come and get it,'" he said.

However, he said he will favor "military aid to our friends everywhere if they will resist" the advance of Communism.

Saline County Girl Scout Council Elects Officers; To Join Area Group

Twenty-eight council members were present at the January meeting of the Saline County Girl Scout Council held at the home of Mrs. Charles Farrar Wednesday evening, Jan. 11.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. James Barker; vice president, Mrs. Eugene Morris; treasurer, Paul Tanner; secretary, Mrs. E. J. Thompson; registrar, Mrs. E. J. Thompson; organization, Mrs. L. D. Cutting; program, Mrs. J. P. Robinson; nominating, Mrs. George Barnes.

Mrs. Farrar, president, expressed her gratitude for the large number of troop leaders and board members present and explained how the board conducts the business of the council during the year. She also explained the way new members were elected to the board each January.

Mrs. E. J. Thompson, secretary, read the minutes of the previous council meeting and the last board meeting.

The following financial report was given: Balance on hand January 1955, $816.91; receipts for 1955, $2,426.81; expenditures for 1955, $1,182.54; and balance on hand January 1956, $1,061.18. It was explained that most of the expenditure during the year went to help finance the camping program for the Saline County Girl Scouts held at Southern Illinois university at Carbondale. Money was also used to pay for the services of a professional Scout trainer who

Sachs Bids for Downstate Support

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Morris B. Sachs, Chicago merchant and city treasurer, huddled with downstate Democratic supporters Friday and then announced "only God can take me out" of the primary race for governor.

Sachs, who has ignored the party organization's reins in the past, had said he would be a candidate for governor regardless of who got the party endorsement. The endorsement for governor this week went to Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen.

Sachs' visit here was an obvious bid for support of the strong downstate supporters of former Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett.

Cheated Bandit 'Tells All' About Brink's Robbery

BOSTON (UP)—The FBI and state law enforcement officials claimed today to have a "complete case" against the gang that staged the nation's greatest hold-up.

Central figure in the government's case was baldish hoodlum Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, who Friday after six years of silence appeared before the Suffolk County grand jury to "tell all" about the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery.

As a result of O'Keefe's exact and detailed description of how the Jan. 17, 1950 robbery took place, the grand jury quickly returned indictments against him and 10 others.

There were a total of 46 indictments on armed robbery and conspiracy, carrying maximum penalties of life imprisonment.

The embittered O'Keefe who said he was cheated out of his share of the loot and shot at by his former friends, talked for an hour and 15 minutes before the grand jury.

Liquor Store Operator

O'Keefe named Joseph F. McGinnis, 52, a Boston liquor store operator, as the "brains" behind the holdup and burly Anthony Pino, 48, as the second in command.

O'Keefe said that the Brinks Inc. North End counting house was "cashed" for 18 months before the robbery was attempted.

The bandits, according to O'Keefe, made daring entrances at night, timing their arrivals and departures so they would be unseen by the nightwatchman.

Impressions of the locks leading to the money vaults were made during the nighttime visits, O'Keefe said.

He said McGinnis didn't participate in the actual robbery but stayed around town establishing an alibi.

Two Men Outside

While two men stayed with the truck outside, O'Keefe said he and alleged accomplices Henry Baker, Adolph Maffie, Michael Geagan, Thomas Richardson, James I. Faherty and Stanley Gusciora went inside the building and pulled off the holdup.

Later the gang met with McGinnis, according to O'Keefe, at a home in Boston's Roxbury section to split up the loot.

"There was more than we expected," O'Keefe said. "Much more. We were all surprised."

"We thought the whole job might bring two or three hundred grand because we weren't sure how much money was kept in the vault," he was quoted as saying.

O'Keefe said McGinnis took $100,000 in fresh bills and deposited them because he was afraid the Federal Reserve Bank would have the serial numbers.

Two of the men indicted, Faherty and Richardson, are missing. One of the men, Joseph Banfield, is dead. O'Keefe and Gusciora have been serving time in prison, O'Keefe in Boston and Gusciora in Pittsburgh.

McGinnis, Pino, Baker, Maffie, Geagan and Vincent J. Costa, 41, were arrested Thursday.

Coach Bland Placed Under Oxygen Tent

Gene Bland, Harrisburg Township high school coach, became seriously ill last night during the Harrisburg-West Frankfort basketball game at Davenport gym and was rushed to Lightner hospital, where he was placed under an oxygen tent.

Tests were to be made this morning to determine whether or not Bland had suffered a coronary occlusion, his physician stated.

Bland, head basketball coach, was sitting on the bench next to Lawrence Caluffetti, athletic director, and during the third quarter told Caluffetti that he was ill, that he had a severe pain in his chest, that he was stiff in his shoulders.

He told Caluffetti to send a boy into the stands for Dr. B. E. Montgomery, that he would meet him just as son as the quarter ended.

At the end of the quarter Bland walked to the end of the gym and met Montgomery. At first Bland was taken to his home but was rushed immediately to Lightner hospital, where he was placed under an oxygen tent.

OIL REPORT: Four Producers, Two Dry Holes Reported in County During Week

Taken from the Robertson

Tri-State Oil Report

The report for the period ending January 10 revealed four producers (two of them already reported by The Daily Register) and two dry holes.

Portis-Ingle-Caddick got a producer at the Claude Heflin No. 1, SW NW NW, 15-8-5e (Galatia).

The oil well came in the Aux Vases at 2869-86 and 2888-89 with initial production of 280 barrels of oil and 70 of water per day on flow after fracture.

Locate Last of Five Slain by Ecuador Indians

QUITO, Ecuador (UP)—Searchers in the Ecuadorian jungle Friday located the body of the last of five American missionaries slain Sunday by Indian headhunters—perhaps because they refused a shrunken head as a gift.

The dead, all members of the Evangelical Protestant Mission based here, are Nathaniel Saint of Fullerton, Calif.; T. Edward McCully Jr. of Wauwatosa, Wis.; Roger Yoderian of Billings, Mont.; Peter Fleming of Seattle, and James Elliot of Portland, Ore.

They had enjoyed considerable success in early efforts to establish friendly relations with the savage Auca Indian headhunters in the "green hell" jungles of eastern Ecuador. They were massacred shortly after a group of strange Indians appeared on the scene.

Indian experts here theorized the strangers may have offered the missionaries a shrunken head—most prized trophy of their tribe—as a token of friendship.

The Americans would have been almost certain to refuse the grisly gift, and the refusal could have set off the hair-trigger tempers of the bloodthirsty savages, the experts said.

The missionaries knew they were taking their lives in their hands when they ventured among the Aucaes, who have been continuously on the warpath against all comers for at least 40 years.

Gray Announces Candidacy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (Democrat), 25th District of Illinois, today announced his candidacy for re-election to Congress.

The 31-year-old West Frankfort Democrat will be seeking his second term. Gray stated that his first year in office had been the busiest year of his life with over 50,000 personal requests made to his West Frankfort and Washington, D. C. offices, in addition to over 200 personal appearances.

Doyle Smith's Johnson-Smith No. 1, SW NE NE, 30-75-5e (Tate) made an oil well in the Aux Vases at 3154-64 with initial production 200 barrels per day on pump.

Previously reported was Justin Reynolds' No. 2, NE SE NE 26-88-5e (Brushy) where Sun Oil Company made an oil well in the Aux Vases at 2880-82 with initial production 50 barrels per day on pump voluntarily pro-rated.

(Private sources indicated the well had a capacity of 156 barrels per day.)

Also reported was the Breuer-Robinson W. R. McCarty No. 1, SW NE NW, 25-98-6e, (Harrisburg). It flowed 200 barrels of oil through choke in eight hours after flow was recovered following fracture in the Cypress.

It then flowed 7 1/2 barrels an hour through a 3/64 inch choke and has been initiated for a voluntarily pro-rated flow gauge of 50 barrels daily.

Dry and abandoned were Ivan White's Daisy Seright No. 3, NW NW NE, 31-75-5e, and Stelle's Lawrence Jones No. 1, SW NE NW, 21-88-6e (Raleigh).

Other activity:

C. E. Brehm's Gill-Williams No. 2, SW NE NE, 30-75-5e, was on pump testing the Aux Vases. His Shaw No. 1, SW NE NW, 30-75-5e, was cleaning out and testing the Aux Vases. His Shaw No. 2, SE NW SW, 30-75-5e, was drilling past 1654.

Ivan White's Williams No. 3, NW SE SW, 30-75-5e, was on pump testing the Aux Vases. His Williams No. 4, NE SE SW, 30-75-5e, was drilling past 2521.

THEY'RE "GUINEA PIGS"—These baby pigs at the Pfizer Agricultural Research Center, near Terre Haute, Ind., are being used for experiments in the new, but fast-growing science of using antibiotics in agriculture and animal husbandry. Ordinarily, the pigs would have received only sow's milk for the first 56 days of life. This results in the loss of about a third of all pigs farrowed, deaths being due to faulty nutrition, diseases passed from the sow and physical injury caused by the sow. Today pigs can be taken away from the sow two to three weeks after birth and given a special "baby food" containing all needed nutrition plus a growth-stimulating antibiotic, such as terramycin. The antibiotic gets the pig to market about 20 per cent faster and guards against disease, such as scours.

Give Cows Needed Minerals

Your milk cows don't need very much mineral.

But what they do need is important both for growth and for milk production, says Leo R. Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Illinois dairy feeds normally are low in salt, for one thing, Fryman points out. Therefore, milk cows should be able to get all the salt they want. In addition, they will need 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of salt in every 100 pounds of grain mixtures. Calves need about one pound of salt for the same amount of grain.

Dairy rations may also lack calcium and phosphorus. Legumes used as pasture crops, silages or well-cured hay are the best known sources of calcium, but they are low in phosphorus. For that reason rations containing little or no protein supplement may be low in phosphorus.

You can add both phosphorus and calcium to the ration by including ground limestone and steamed bonemeal at the rate of one pound of each to every 100 pounds of grain mixture.

Another good way to make sure your cows get all of the minerals they need is to give them free access to a mixture of two parts calcium, two parts steamed bonemeal and one part salt. They will eat only what they need.

In northeastern Illinois, dairy cows may need some supplemental iodine. The best way to add iodine to a ration is to use iodized salt in place of ordinary salt.

Soybean Prices Reflect Lower Product Values

Forecasting soybean prices has been both easy and difficult: Easy, because in most of the past 25 years prices have advanced substantially after harvest. Difficult, because soybeans are a new crop and production has increased rapidly, because domestic demand for soybean products is quite variable, and because foreign buyers sometimes come into the market for a large share of the crop.

A year ago the average price of soybeans in Illinois was around $2.64 a bushel. The price held around this level from October through January, climbed up a little in February, and then worked down to an average of $2.03 by mid-September. About that time drought damage to the crop set off a sharp price in advance, but most of this advance was soon lost.

There is no surplus of soybeans. The carryover of old beans on October 1 was only ten million bushels, or 3 percent of the previous crop.

The 1955 crop is estimated at 372 million bushels. This crop is 10 percent larger than the previous record crop of 1954 and 56 percent greater than average. Remember, though, that record-breaking soybean crops are the rule rather than the exception.

A price support loan at a national average of $2.04 a bushel is available for 1955 crop soybeans. Prices have been at or above the loan level since harvest time, so few beans are being placed under the loan.

Prices of soybean products are sharply lower than they were a year ago. Soybean oil recently was quoted 10.34 to 11 cents a pound compared with 11.12 to 11.34 cents the year before. Since a bushel of soybeans yields about 11 pounds of oil, the oil in a bushel of beans recently was worth around $1.18 compared with $1.26 a year earlier.

Recent quotations on soybean meal were around $47 to $48 a ton, down from $70 last year. A bushel of soybeans yields about 48 pounds of meal, worth $1.15 compared with $1.68 a year ago. These prices and values are wholesale, bulk, Decatur.

At these recent prices the value of the products obtainable from a bushel of soybeans is $1.18 worth of oil plus $1.15 worth of meal, a total of $2.33. This product value may be compared with some recent prices of around $2.10 paid to farmers for soybeans. The difference, only 20 to 25 cents, compares with about 30 cents a year ago and is only half that prevailing in some years. Expenses that must be paid from this small difference include local handling, transportation and processing costs.

Domestic demand for soybean oil may increase. But the production of the principal competing products, cottonseed oil and lard, will be about ten percent greater than last year. One strong point: the government does not have big stocks of cottonseed oil as it had a year ago.

Demand for soybean meal may increase. Good prices for eggs mean good demand for meal from owners of laying flocks. On the other hand, there may be some cut-back in the demand for soybean meal from producers of broilers and hogs.

Foreign buyers took 60 million bushels, or 17 percent, of the 1954 soybean crop. With low prices now, foreign buyers are expected to take around 75 million bushels of 1955 crop beans.

Exporters also took 36 million pounds of soybean oil in the year ending with June, and they have taken much larger amounts so far this year.

Period for Approving Commodity Loans Except Corn Ends Jan. 31

The period for approving 1955 loans and purchase agreements for all commodities except corn will close January 31, 1956. This means that all notes must be executed by the borrowers and approved by the county office not later than the close of business January 31, 1956. "We will discontinue accepting applications for loans on all commodities except on corn on January 16, 1956," according to Chairman Herman Driskell, of the local ASC Office.

New Farm Corn Allotments Now Available

Any producer who intends to plant corn in 1956 on a farm where no corn was planted during the years 1953, 1954, or 1955, must apply for a corn acreage allotment if he wants price support on his farm in 1956. Herman Driskell, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the chairman explained. However, under the acreage allotment program, the production of corn in 1956 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make all the corn produced on such farm ineligible for price support in 1956.

Application forms for a corn acreage allotment are available at the County ASC office. February 15, 1956, is the last day such applications may be filed.

Tree Farming To Stimulate Forest Economy

PARIS, Ill. (Special) — Recent activation of a Tree Farm program in Illinois will sharply stimulate the state's forest economy in 1956, in the opinion of A. C. Foley, Paris lumberman and chairman of the Illinois Forest Industries committee.

Eventually, the Tree Farm program of forest management on private timberlands will increase the forest yield by two and a half times, Mr. Foley declared. Already, forest industries in the state give jobs to 70,000 persons with an annual payroll of $234,337,000, he said.

The Illinois Forest Industries committee, which serves as state sponsor of the American Tree Farm System, has set a goal of 300 certified Tree Farms for the next three years. A total of 17 woodlots were certified at formal launchings of the movement at Mississippi Forest near Oregon in October.

The Tree Farm program is sponsored nationally by American Forest Products Industries, Inc., which also sponsors industry's Keep America Green fire prevention program. At year's end the national program covered over 7,000 private woodland owners with more than 37 million acres of well-managed timberland.

The Tree Farm program is an instrument for giving public recognition to timberland owners who manage their woodlots in accordance with good forestry practices, the chairman said. The woodland owner must protect his timber from fires, disease and destructive grazing, and must harvest for repeated crops.

"The importance of forest management in the Illinois economy is unmistakable," said Mr. Foley. "The launching of the Tree Farm movement a few months ago is the starting gun for a continuing program of forest management which will mean more income for our landowners, more raw materials to fill the needs of our wood-using industries, and a greater consequent degree of prosperity for the entire state."

In view of the nation's increasing population and the increasing demand for wood products of all kinds, tree farmers will always have a market for the commercial timber they produce and harvest, Mr. Foley added.

Spring Wears A Light, Slim Coat

The neat and slender lines of the spring, 1956 coat are shown here in three very different silhouettes, all of them fresh, all of them new. Originals of coat in sky blue fleece (left) is narrow at the top, falls to a gentle flare at the hem. Fake pocket flaps are placed high; there's a three-button closing. Pale beige coat (center) from Monte Sano and Pruzan has high-banded pockets and wide front panels but no buttons. There's a high cardigan neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Davidow's coat in soft beige tweed, is worn over simple, classic suit. Both suit and coat have deep patch pockets. Coat is back belted, has button detail on skirt panel pleats. Fabrics continue their trend to a much lighter weight.

Russia Returns Major German War Criminals
HERLESCHAUEN, Germany (U.P.)—Russia sent home the first German "major war criminals" from Soviet prison camps under heavy guard today and West Germany promptly announced they would be freed.

Communist East Germany clapped its share of the "major" war criminals in prison.

Some 60 Red Army troops guarded the sealed trains which brought the Germans to this East-West German border crossing station today.

West German authorities said repatriated Germans, branded as "major war criminals" by Soviet courts, would be granted temporary papers and permitted to go to their homes. But the officials reserved the right to recall them to trial when their records arrived from the Soviet Union.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won a promise from the Soviets for the release of 9,626 German war prisoners during his "mission to Moscow" last September. Of the total, all but 749 were to be released unconditionally. The others because of the "special gravity" of their offenses were to be handed over to the local authorities.

Arriving in West Germany today were 453 of the "major war criminals."

Revival to Continue Next Week at Methodist Church

Revival services at the First Methodist will continue on through next week with services beginning at 7 o'clock. There will be no service this evening. The Rev. H. Gilbert Williams, evangelist, will deliver two sermons tomorrow and will resume his Bible study classes on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. On Monday morning there will be no class. It is hoped that 120 people will be present Tuesday morning as the study resumes. A warm welcome is extended to any one to attend the revival services and the study sessions.

Siamese Twins Born To Farm Wife

WOODVILLE, N. H. — The wife of a Woodville farmer has given birth to Siamese twin girls, a spokesman for Cottage hospital said Friday night.

The twins, joined at the chest, were in "fair" condition, the spokesman said. They were born Wednesday night to Mrs. Cora Marcotte, 28. She was reported in "good" condition.

OUT OUR WAY

NO ARMS, HE DRIVES WITH TOES—Armless driver Edward E. Higgins drives an automatic-shift car—steering with the toes on his right foot. Higgins, a 29-year-old used-car dealer in Pueblo, Colo., says he got his driver's license in January, 1954, after a 2½-hour road test with a state patrolman and Pueblo license bureau officials. Born without arms, he learned to operate farm machinery when he was 12 years old and to drive a car when he was 16. Higgins works the brake and accelerator with his left foot. He was recently charged with speeding more than 100 m.p.h., but a Colorado Springs, Colo., jury found him innocent.

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Behind the Screens: There's a new twist in Hollywood today on hitching your wagon to a star. Now it's hitch your voice to a star.

Two voices and the music go 'round and 'round and it comes out just fine.

Deborah Kerr's warbling was good enough to solo "Whistle A Happy Tune" and "Getting to Know You" in the film version of "The King and I." But for six other wider-ranged Rodgers and Hammerstein tunes in the film she has a vocal "collaborator," concert warbler Mari Nixon.

Singing voices of stars have been dubbed by other people before, but this is the first time two voices have been blended into one. Deborah recorded the songs with Marni standing by as a "sing in," warbling the lines out of the star's range.

The studio says audiences will be unable to detect the voice change.

"Casey Jones, Jr." telefilm series is on the planning boards for 1956. Railroad engineers' caps for the kiddies is part of a large merchandising plan in the contract with Casey's widow and his son.

DEAN MARTIN and Jerry Lewis, it now can be told, battled for months with NBC on the subject of "burning themselves out" before signing that new five-year, $7,500,000 contract. The network wanted more frequent appearances by the team on home screens.

But Dean and Jerry argued that four times a year is enough, and that's the way the contract finally was written. They will pay all production and other talent costs for the 20 shows out of the $7,500,000.

NOT IN THE SCRIPT: Joe E. Lewis to a night-club hecker: "Why don't you go buy a toupee with a built-in brain?"

Inside reason for Susan Hayward mixing "Hilda Crane" as her next movie: "Too similar to 'I'll Cry Tomorrow.'" Jean Simmons will play the role instead of Susan.

THE WINNET: Bob Hope flipped it to a TV audience in London: "If Bing Crosby doesn't work for two days the U. S. Government sues him for non-support."

Fliers Buzz Wolf, Animal Causes Plane to Crash

TOWER, Minn. (UP)—Two young fliers said today a fighting female timber wolf they were trying to frighten leaped up in the air Friday and pulled their plane down on the ice.

Jack Burgess said the pugnacious wolf snapped her jaws onto one of the light plane's skis and her 100-pound weight caused it to crash. Neither Burgess nor his companion, Richard Liliya, was injured but the wolf was killed.

Burgess said he and Liliya were flying over Putnam Lake about six miles north of here when they saw the female and her mate on the snow-covered ice. They dropped down to "buzz" the wolves he said, thinking the animals would panic and run.

Instead, when the plane was 4 or 5 feet above the ice the wolf snarled and leaped at the craft. The plane went another 50 feet before nosing over.

Burgess and Liliya said they stayed in the wreckage for several minutes because the male wolf continued to menace them. They finally chased him away with an axe.

Small tears in net curtains can be mended by applying a thin coat of colorless nail polish to the tear and pressing the frayed edges together with the fingers until the polish dries.

A ruler...the humblest of instruments! Yet it meets two tremendously important needs. It guides...giving man a straight, sure rule by which to draw his lines and sketch his plans. And it measures...showing man where to begin, and where to end, proving the dimensions of his work.

That which the simple ruler does in the physical realm of life is the work of the Church in the spiritual realm. For every man's life is like a blank sheet of paper, until, by his own living, he places upon it the lines which give it meaning and character.

The Church is our guide...giving us the tried and sure truths by which we can live...pointing us to the straight and unswerving paths which lead to God.

And the Church is our measure...showing us the standards by which every man's life must be judged...revealing the beginning and teaching and example are the beginning and ending of all spiritual achievement, the perfect dimensions of life.

Are you letting the Church meet these tremendous needs in your life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and financial support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Jesus Calls For Repentance"

Luke 13:1-9; 31-35
GOLDEN TEXT: "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." (Luke 13:5)

INTRODUCTION: Jesus had just been talking to the disciples about being good stewards. He had spoken to the crowds of people about the signs of the times. He told them that they could look into the sky and upon the earth and predict the weather and the seasons, but that they could not see the signs of the times.

Just about that time, one in the crowd brought up a current event and asked for its interpretation. It seems that Pilate had mixed the blood of some Galileans with their sacrifices. Were these Galileans more sinful than others? Was that the reason for their horrible and tragic death? Jesus answered:

I REPENTANCE COMES FIRST (Vv. 1-5)

This incident gave opportunity for some of the people to draw their robes of self-righteousness closely about them and give thanks that they were not as sinful as those unfortunate Galileans.

Jesus struck right at the heart of the matter. He turned the tables on them. He made them see the need of repenting of their own sins. Herein is a lesson for all of us. We must never compare ourselves with other people and say we are better than they. If you want to compare yourself with anyone, let that One be Jesus. Remember, that your "righteousness is as filthy rags in the sight of God."

IF THE FRUIT OF A CHRISTIAN (Vv. 6-9)

The fruit of a fig tree is figs. The fruit of an orange tree is the orange. The fruit of the apple tree is the apple. THE FRUIT OF A CHRISTIAN IS ANOTHER CHRISTIAN. Are you bearing fruit?

Jesus told them of a vineyard dresser who had cared for a fig tree for three years and had found no fruit. He wanted to cut it down. The owner of the vineyard wanted to wait one more year. Then, if it did not bear fruit, it was to be cut down.

God is long suffering. He is patient. However, there comes an end to his patience. If you are not bearing fruit for Him, it would be wise for you to get busy.

III SALVATION OR DESOLATION (Vv. 31-35)
Herod sent a threatening message to Jesus. Jesus sent a reply of defiance back in which he used some very strong language. He called Herod an old "fox." Herod was living in sin.

Additional Church Notes
On Page Three

Sometimes a Christian finds it necessary to use strong, or stern language. Enemies of Christ's and His cause must be dealt with in a stern manner sometimes. It is the only language they understand.

CONCLUSION—Jesus had compassion upon the multitude. "Com" means "with," and "passion" means "to suffer." Therefore, "compassion" means, "to suffer with." Jesus literally suffered with those people. See Him weeping over the city of Jerusalem: "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee: how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!"

Friend, Jesus loves you. He has compassion for you when you need Him most. If you do not know Him, you should be bearing fruit for Him. Remember the golden text for this lesson: "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish."

Johnston City Beats Eldorado

A fast, accurate shooting band of Indians from Johnston City ambushed Eldorado Friday night and carried off a 53-37 decision. The game was played at Eldorado.

Eldorado displayed its poorest game of the season, shooting a dismal 200 per cent in the first half, with four field goals in 20 tries. The Indians, during those same two quarters, connected 14 times in 29 efforts for a fine 480 per cent.

During the opening three frames the Eagles scored only 20 points, eight in the first, five in the second and seven in the third. In the final quarter, with both coaches clearing their bench and giving everyone a chance to play, Eldorado came up with 17 points while J. C. collected just eight.

Tonight Eldorado plays at West Frankfort.

Shawneetown, Galatia, Rosiclare, Pope County Win Conference Tilts

All teams in the Greater Egyptian conference engaged in loop play Friday night with Shawneetown, Galatia, Rosiclare and Pope County gaining decisions.

Shawneetown, with an 82-47 decision over Equality, remained unbeaten for the season and tops the league standings with 10 victories in as many starts. It also was the 16th win of the season for the Indians.

Galatia topped Ridgway 59-53. Pope County edged past Vienna, 55-54, and Rosiclare beat Cave-in-Rock, 63-57.

The winning Shawneetown Indians broke their game with Equality wide open in the first quarter, racing to a one-sided 28-2 advantage and keeping things well under control throughout the game.

In the preliminary game both clubs put winning streaks on the line and Equality kept its string unbroken with a 56-54 overtime victory. It was six in a row for the Equality yearlings.

Galatia and Ridgway played a thriller on the latter's floor with the fine rebounding of Ridgway's Lawler keeping his club in contention.

John Tate, with 20 points, was the night's top scorer in pacing Galatia to the decision.

Ridgway was up 26-24 at half-time, Galatia was in command 39-32 after three quarters and won 59-53.

Pope County and Vienna tied up in another thriller with the visiting Pope County team gaining a 55-54 victory.

Galesburg, Elgin and La Grange went tumbling on a heavy Illinois prep basketball card Friday night.

Moline's Maroon spoilers handed Galesburg its first defeat 78-72 on the Galesburg floor. Joliet, until now doormat of the strong Big Eight Conference, nosed out Elgin 54-53. La Grange took its second loss as Hinsdale took a ball control contest 41-38.

Moline has now broken winning streaks of three of the state's top quintets — Rockford West, La Grange and Galesburg. The Maroons, with a 9-3 record, were ranked eighth in the United Press coaches' ratings while Galesburg was ranked third.

Rockford West and Pinckneyville, the state's two top-rated clubs rolled on. West's Warriors made it 9-1 by jarring Freeport 73-50 and Pinckneyville out-maneuvered Carbondale 57-50.

Shawneetown Wins No. 16

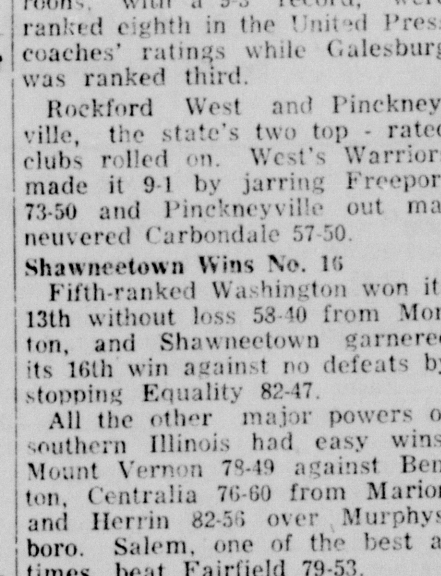

Fifth-ranked Washington won its 13th without loss 53-40 from Morton, and Shawneetown garnered its 16th win against no defeats by stopping Equality 82-47.

All the other major powers of southern Illinois had easy wins. Mount Vernon 79-49 against Benton, Centralia 76-60 from Marion and Herrin 82-55 over Murphysboro. Salem, one of the best at times, beat Fairfield 79-53.

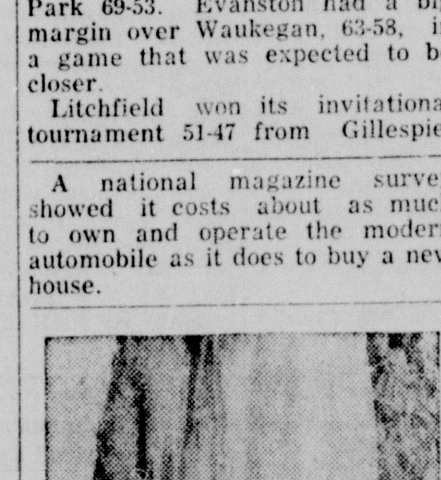

Maywood Proviso, ranked 15th in the state, whipped Highland Park 69-53. Evanston had a big margin over Waukegan, 63-53, in a game that was expected to be closer.

Litchfield won its invitational tournament 51-47 from Gillespie.

A national magazine survey showed it costs about as much to own and operate the modern automobile as it does to buy a new house.
